

Conference held on human rights

PATIALA, DECEMBER 10

The International Conference on "Shifting Paradigm of Human Rights in 21st Century" was organised by Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law, Punjab, to commemorate the occasion of Human Rights Day. The event brought together jurists, academicians, legal practitioners and social leaders to deliberate upon the evolution of human rights in the face of technological advancement and changing societal norms.

Justice Dinesh Maheshwari, former judge of the Supreme Court and chairperson of the Law Commission of India delivered an address on the essence of true fairness and kindness. "If you want to be fair, be it, but don't seek something in return; otherwise, it is barter. When people are in their survival mode, we prioritise our immediate needs; kindness should not be muzzled by acknowledgement," he said. —TNS
