

INTRA-JUDGMENT WRITING COMPETITION, 2020

The Centre for Advanced Studies in Labour Welfare along with RGNUL Moot Court Committee together organized a Judgment writing competition. Judgment writing is not an ordinary task, the right interpretation and avoiding vague opinions is of utmost importance in good judgment. The Judgment Writing Competition, 2020 was conceived with the aim to cultivate the art of writing judgments among students to push the students to write judgments. The students were given the feel of assuming the role of the judge. The great strength of this contest was to engage the students with multi-tasking of both creative lawyering and innovative judging.

The competition was open for all students of RGNUL. A team comprising of two students from any year was eligible to participate in the competition. The event was held from March- April where participants were given around a month to write the Judgment based on the problem. The proposition dealt with a writ petition pertaining to issues of Maternity Leave, particularly dealing with the issue of granting maternity leave to mothers commissioning a child via surrogacy.

The competition received overwhelming participation from the students of RGNUL, out of which 3 winners and 1 special mention were decided. The winning teams securing 1st, 2nd and 3rd positions were awarded Cash Prizes along with the Certificate of Excellence. The winner of Special Mention was awarded a Certificate of Excellence. All the participants were provided with participation certificates.
