ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

The Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law (RGNUL), Punjab was established by the State Legislature of Punjab by passing the Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law, Punjab Act, 2006 (Punjab Act No. 12 of 2006). The Act incorporated a law university of national stature in Punjab, thereby fulfilling the need for a Centre of Excellence in legal education in the modern era of globalisation and liberalisation. The University acquired the approval of the Bar Council of India (BCI) in July 2006.

In May 2015, the University became the first and only NLU to get accreditation by the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) with an 'A' grade. In 2018, RGNUL was amongst the four NLUs to have been granted autonomous status by the University Grants Commission. The University has been ranked among the top 10 law schools in India under the National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF), by the Union Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India. The University is currently emphasizing on research, training, and consultancy in various of contemporary legal interests and envisages to be a research-intensive university in times to come.

ABOUT THE CENTRE

The Centre for Advanced Studies in International Humanitarian Law (CASH) is one of the flagship centres of Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law, Punjab. The Centre aims to further its objective of bridging the gap between the theory and practice of humanitarian law. It is established to facilitate research and discourse in the various facets of international humanitarian law by analysing current policy approaches in tackling contemporary global issues. It further streamlines the process of learning through academic courses, programs, and publications.

The Centre follows a multi-disciplinary approach to identifying problems in international humanitarian law and endeavours to engage in dialogue to facilitate change. Therefore, it helps ensure that future leaders and policy-makers understand the practical relevance of the subject of IHL and have a thorough knowledge of its basic principles and frameworks.

ABOUT THE COMPETITION

Over the past decade, the relevance of international criminal law has grown significantly in India, presenting unique avenues for legal discourse in the 21st century. This competition provides students with the platform to delve into and dissect emerging issues within the realm of international criminal law.

In particular, it aims to:

- Offer a stage for law students to demonstrate their research and writing prowess.
- Foster research and critical legal analysis of modern legal dilemmas concerning international criminal law and the global criminal justice system.
- Enhance comprehension of the international institutional frameworks underpinning international law.
- Cultivate analytical acumen in addressing legal and political challenges within the international criminal justice system.
- Promote more effective implementations of international mechanisms by inspiring students to engage in empirical research within the field of international criminal justice.
- Encourage interdisciplinary exploration by inviting contributions that integrate insights from related fields such as human rights law and transitional justice.

ABOUT THE THEME

International Criminal Law:

Contemporary Challenges for the International Criminal Court

The International Criminal Court (ICC) serves as the court of last resort, tasked with investigating and prosecuting the gravest of offenses: genocide, war crimes, crimes against humanity, and aggression. Yet, its noble mission is besieged by numerous hurdles, including institutional limitations and wavering state cooperation. Furthermore, as the boundaries of international law continue to evolve, new forms of crimes are emerging, offering ample opportunity for innovative research and analysis.
