EDITORIAL

It is a matter of immense pride for all of us that the Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law has come up with the latest issue of the RGNUL Law Review the RLR Volume VIII Number II, July-December 2018. As the University continues to rise in the National Rankings, this achievement is yet another feather in our cap. The Editorial Board has once again brought forth to the readers another interesting intellectual treat. Exemplifying the ideals of academic integrity and our desire to be academically rigorous, sensitive to culture, attentive to socio, legal, economic and political justice, and helpful not only for scholars but also for government officials, activists, judges, lawyers and claimants, this issue contains an exciting and diverse menu of research papers that will enlighten and fascinate the readers. This Referred Law Review has eleven articles on diverse significant legal issues pertaining to varying fields of law like the Impact of Poverty on Environment, An analysis of the efficacy of reconciliation provisions in saving Hindu Marriages, Cyber Security concerns have been addressed with respect to the Right to be forgotten, the medico-Legal implications of Incest child rape have been discussed with focus on the suffering of Child Rape Survivor, The concept and Issues of E-governance in India have been analyzed, the intricate debate with respect to Dispute Resolution, An insight into the concept of Restitution of Conjugal Rights from the angle of the right to Privacy has been explored, A socio-legal perspective of policy implications of the Indian Elderly Women has been deftly dealt with. An Analysis of the legal implications of Comparative Advertising is an interesting read and Justice to Juvenile Delinquents have been discussed in this Volume. I take this opportunity to also express my heartfelt thanks and immense gratitude to all the eminent and distinguished Referees associated with the Journal for their painstaking deep and fine evaluation and corrections as without their silent efforts this Journal would not have seen the light of the day. It has been a pleasure reading the research findings of the contributors and editing this volume ,which I am confident will enrich the readers. I sincerely thank all the contributors for their efforts and patience in dealing with our Editorial Board on finalizing their work. I also fervently hope that the authors shall continue to write and make the future publications of RLR an enriching experience to all the readers
