ABOUT US

The Centre for Alternative Dispute Resolution, RGNUL (CADR-RGNUL) is a research centre dedicated to research and capacity-building in ADR. The ultimate objective, at CADR, is to strengthen ADR mechanisms in the country by emerging as a platform that enables students and professionals to further their interests in the field.

In its attempt to further the objective of providing quality research and information to the ADR fraternity, the CADR team is elated to present the third Issue of the Third Volume of 'The CADR Newsletter'. The Newsletter initiative began with the observation that there exists a lacuna in the provision of information relating to ADR to the practicing community. With an aim to lessen this gap, the Newsletter has been comprehensively covering developments in the field of ADR, both national and international. The CADR Newsletter is a one-stop destination for all that one needs to know about the ADR world; a 'monthly dose' of ADR News!

ARBITRATION

DOMESTIC ARBITRATION

1. DISPUTES ARE NOT ARBITRABLE AFTER SECTION 7 INSOLVENCY AND BANKRUPTCY CODE IS FILED: SUPREME COURT

The Apex Court in Indus Biotech Pvt. Ltd. v. Kotak India Venture (Offshore Fund) & Ors. reaffirmed the NCLT's decision, holding that "In a situation where the petition under Section 7 of IB Code is yet to be admitted and, in such proceedings, if an application under Section 8 of the Act." Thus, Arbitration reference is not maintainable if filed after admission of Insolvency Resolution under Section 7 of the IBC.

5. IS IT COMMON FOR DELHI POLICE TO ACCOMPANY BANK RECEIVERS TO ENFORCE ARBITRAL ORDER AGAINST BORROWER WITHOUT APPROACHING COURT: DELHI HIGH COURT

The Delhi High Court in Tarun Krishnan Aggarwal v. SHO PS Hanu Qazi directed Delhi Police to clarify if it was commonplace for them to accompany bank receivers to enforce orders passed by arbitrators without approaching an executing court. The High Court also asked Kotak Mahindra Bank if its receivers take police help without approaching the court.

INTERNATIONAL COMMERCIAL ARBITRATION

1. ARBITRATION AWARD VIOLATING PLAINTIFF'S STATUTORY RIGHT TO WORK OVERTURNED

In Brown v. TGS Management Co., the California appellate court agreed with the plaintiff that the “confidentiality provisions” of the employment agreement would illegally restrain him from working in statistical arbitrage after leaving TGS. The court held that the arbitrator exceeded his powers by passing an award “that violates a party’s unwaivable statutory rights or that contravenes an explicit legislative expression of public policy” and reversed the judgement.

4. PRE-CONDITIONS TO ARBITRATION ARE NOT MATTERS OF JURISDICTION: ENGLISH HIGH COURT

In Republic of Sierra Leone v. SL Mining Ltd, the English High Court refused to set aside an arbitral award even when it was alleged that the defendant had failed to observe the agreed pre-conditions to arbitration agreed upon in the agreement. The court further held that such alleged non-compliance was a question of admissibility of the claim and not of the jurisdiction of the tribunal.

6. NEW PROCEDURAL RIGHTS AS INDONESIA-SINGAPORE BIT GETS RATIFIED

Back in 2014, Indonesia announced its intention to put an end to "all of its 67 bilateral investment treaties" (BITs) and since then, the state has actively sought to re-negotiate several of them. On 9 March 2021, the Indonesia-Singapore BIT came into force after being ratified by both States. The treaty offers comprehensive investment rights while also protecting the state's ability to regulate by targeted carve-outs. It includes provisions on corporate social responsibility, anti-bribery and corruption as well. The ratification of this treaty puts long-awaited investor security and new procedural rights into effect, which could help both countries' economic recovery.

IN CONVERSATION WITH: MR. SUBHASH BHUTORIA

MR. SUBHASH BHUTORIA

Mr. Subhash Bhutoria is a partner, and head of IPR and Art Law practice at Krida Legal, a full-service law firm based in New Delhi, India. He is also an Arbitrator at the Court of Arbitration for Art, Netherlands (CAfA).

Mr. Bhutoria's practice is mainly focused in the field of IPR, technology and law, fashion, consumer and personal injury laws. An alumnus of National Law University, Jodhpur (NLUJ), he has represented leading art galleries, creative professionals, publishers and fashion and lifestyle brands over the years!

Excerpts from the Conversation:

1. 'ART LAW', AND MORE SPECIFICALLY 'ART ARBITRATION', IS AT A VERY NASCENT STAGE IN INDIA AND THE JURISPRUDENCE ON THE SUBJECT IS STILL EVOLVING. HOW DID YOU COME ACROSS THE FIELD OF ART ARBITRATION, AND HOW HAS BEEN YOUR EXPERIENCE WITH THE WORLD OF ART LAW AND/OR ART LAW ARBITRATION?

SB: Through my practice of Intellectual property laws, I have had the opportunity to represent various visual and performing artists since 2009, but my experience of ADR/ arbitration in art is of about 2-3 years.

Art and cultural property is an established domain, yet the legal practice is niche. Besides, Intellectual property laws, the domain majorly deals with laws relating to insurance, contracts and even crime. Both, special provisions in general laws and special statutes are enacted for protecting art, cultural property and heritage of India. However, disputes seldom see light of the day, also because of lack of legal awareness and fear of lengthy legal proceedings. With growing awareness, trans-border outreach and convenience offered by ADRs, arbitration in art disputes is likely to increase. Even in its limited form, I am hopeful that arbitration would be preferred way of dispute resolution in art domain.

2. WITH THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE COURT OF ARBITRATION FOR ART (CAfA) IN 2018, ART ARBITRATION IS STEADILY GAINING LIMELIGHT ACROSS THE GLOBE. HAVING BEING APPOINTED TO THE CAfA POOL OF ARBITRATORS YOURSELF, HOW DO YOU VIEW THIS DEVELOPMENT FROM THE PERSPECTIVE OF THE ART COMMUNITY IN INDIA?

SB: It is an honour as well as a great responsibility to be appointed as an Arbitrator at CAfA. While working with artists and galleries, I have realized that one cannot always have the same approach as is required in a regular court proceeding. Under these circumstances, institutions such as CAfA play a vital role, in resolving disputes, without affecting the relationship between the parties. Also, specialized ADRs are highly efficient and cost effective and hence should be preferred over court or legal proceedings.

3. WHAT IS YOUR VIEW ON THE LEGAL ENVIRONMENT IN INDIA, WITH REFERENCE TO ADR. DO YOU THINK IT IS

CONDUCTIVE TO THE GROWTH OF ADR IN GENERAL?

SB: Of course, it is. Besides having comprehensive laws, we have robust infrastructure and human resource to support ADRs/ arbitrations, in India. Also, ODRs and e-arbitration, because of their outreach, could tremendously increase the ADR practice in India. Besides, both the legislature and courts are encouraging out of court settlement of disputes. In fact, Commercial Courts Act, 2015 has made pre-litigation mediation, mandatory in case an urgent relief is not sought. This is quite encouraging.

4. DO YOU BELIEVE THAT ALL IPR DISPUTES ARE DE FACTO NON-ARBITRABLE? WHAT ARE YOUR VIEWS ON THIS IN LIGHT OF THE RECENT MADRAS HIGH COURT JUDGMENT IN SANJAY LALWANI V. JYOSTAR ENTERPRISES, ON THE APPROACH OF THE COURTS REGARDING ARBITRABILITY OF IPR DISPUTES?

SB: The term IPR dispute has wide connotation and as per my understanding of the judgment, causes for action, which are in rem, are non-arbitrable. I don't think this and other judgments put a blanket ban on all kinds of dispute involving IP rights such as royalty or license fees related disputes. Moreover, the Commercial Courts Act mandate pre-litigation mediation in IPR matters, which indicates that ADRs are not restricted in IPR disputes. In context to art business, the disputes arise mostly from breach of contract, which are generally arbitrable claims.

5. LEARNING FROM YOUR WONDERFUL EXAMPLE, ANY ADVICE TO STUDENTS AND YOUNG PROFESSIONALS WHO MIGHT BE INTERESTED IN ART LAW, AND POSSIBLY ART ARBITRATION IN THE FUTURE.

SB: Art and cultural property is a distinct field and is less explored as a legal practice. I recommend professionals and students to acquaint themselves with the domain, to build a career in art law. One can also enrol into professional programs on art law, offered by leading international universities, to gain better knowledge about the field. Art and cultural property law is a vast domain involving human rights, commercial transactions, insurance, intellectual property, money laundering, white collar crimes, dispute resolution et al. and hence one can consider specializing in any of the said areas of her/ his interest.
